

Dear Parents

It is hard to believe that we are entering the last half term of the school year. Time seems to have flown by, with so much packed into the school weeks - we have had residential trips, adventures in Hampton Court, visiting councillors and parents to name but a few of the activities. We hope you enjoy looking over our memories of the first half of the summer term.

A.I.M Higher Writing Day

Pupils from Years 3 & 4 had an amazing time meeting the author, Cliff McNish. During their visit, they focused on how to construct an engaging story and create strong, memorable characters. Cliff shared valuable tips and techniques that inspired the children to think more creatively about their own writing. They were excited to learn from a real author and asked lots of thoughtful questions. The skills they gained from the session will help support and improve their writing in the future. Thank you so much to North Ealing Primary School for hosting this event.

Cllr Nick Denys Visit - Democracy in Action!

We were delighted to welcome Nick Denys, Hillingdon Councillor, who visited our Year 5 and 6 pupils to talk about democracy and the power of choice. As part of the workshop, the children worked in groups to design their own menus and then took part in a ballot vote to choose the most popular one. The top two 'parties' - who ended up in a tie, then amended their menus and presented their final ideas to the class in a bid to win those all-important final votes. It was a brilliantly competitive afternoon, filled with energy, creativity and enthusiastic participation. A huge well done to our Year 5 and 6 pupils - you really brought democracy to life!

Year 3 & 4 Trip to Hampton Court Palace

On Tuesday 20th May, Years 3 and 4 visited Hampton Court Palace to bring their learning about Henry VIII and The Tudors to life. There were 2 workshops, the first session was Investigating Henry (VIII). The children were led by a Tudor scholar to search for evidence to prove or disprove questions about Henry VIII. Questions included, was Henry a powerful king? And was he happy at Hampton Court? The pupils demonstrated excellent knowledge and investigative skills and learned some new facts too. The children then visited the famous maze and gardens with 3 teams competing to get to the centre of the maze first. It was quite a challenge, but with some excellent teamwork and communication skills, everyone made it to the centre.

After a picnic lunch in the beautiful sunshine, we had the second session, King Henry's Court. This followed the Tudor route and was led by a costumed presenter in the role of 'the bodyguard'. The session encouraged children to use the palace as a primary source. They explored the notion of hierarchy and status within the Tudor court and how these are reflected in the buildings of the palace. The session developed their historical enquiry skills, highlighting that we can use architectural features and furnishings to understand the rank and status of those who would have used and occupied the lower and upper parts of the palace.

Some quotes from the children:

Year 3

*Alaiya – My favourite part was Investigating Henry because we learned new things that we hadn't learned at school

*Ema – The maze was very mysterious. We kept ending up in the same place over and over again.

*Hashim – The two people dressed as Tudors were so interesting and taught us lots of new things.

*Lily – I liked seeing the pictures of Henry's wives on the walls.

*Haruya – I loved the investigating Henry activity and holding the different artefacts.

*Rohan – It was great seeing the actors dressed up as people from Tudor times.

*Kota – The court was amazing because it told us what Henry used to be like.

*Gian – The fountains in the gardens were really nice.

*Rexley – I enjoyed the gardens and the maze in the sunshine.

*Shreya – All the nature around the gardens was lovely.

*Dominik – I really liked the whole trip, but my favourite bit was the old paintings in the palace.

Caspian – Year 2

Huge Congratulations to Caspian who was cast as 'Sorrow' in the award-winning production of Madama Butterfly, at Richmond Theatre. His role involved being on stage for 25 minutes, in front of an audience of 850 people.

Caspian's quote:

“It was exciting to be on stage for my first time, in front of 100's of people. I was shy but I did it! I had so much fun being with my mum behind the stage and in the dressing room. Madame butterfly was so loud and had lovely make up.”

Caspian's Mother:

“Such a proud moment for our family! Caspian's first theatre performance in Madama Butterfly was incredibly special—and what a powerful and emotional production to be part of. Caspian's experience on stage and my experience behind the scenes with him was amazing. The wonderful team at Stagecoach guided us both through the process and were a fantastic support in building him up and keeping me calm. It is a huge accomplishment for Caspian and hopefully the start of an amazing journey in the arts.”
